

Odor Abatement

Hydrogen sulfide , also known as "dead man odor" is a contaminant which needs special attention. Caldecon uses industrial ozone generators to remediate decomp odor after the biohazardous material has been removed. Only when the source of the odor has been removed can we start the odor remediation. Other obnoxious odors such as smoke and some pet odors can also be remediated with special enzymes which eat and destroy the source of the odor if sprayed on the source. Nothing beats an ozone generator though. Foggers and air movers, with a change of the home filter and an scented additive will deodorize your house for a few weeks, but eventually the odor will return if the source has not been fully decontaminated. Ozone generators actually change the molecules in the air from O₂ to O₃, thus destroying the molecular structure and the odor with it. Caldecon has a proven process to clean your property of severe odors. Call us today! (866) 442-0088. About Pet Odor Did you know that feline urine (cats) doesn't evaporate like most animal urine? Much of the feline urine actually crystallizes and stays as a solid and therefore needs to be removed completely or sealed if the structure (trusses and foundation) cannot be removed...so when it rains or gets muggy or humid out, cat urine will seem to re-appear or intensify.
